

The Web's Best Job-Hunting Resources

Compiled by Rick Smith, CWDP, GCDF

Workforce Development Specialist rsmith@consultant.com

1-800-Drivers

<http://rwa.metronetworks.com/800drivers.html>

If you have a hunger for life on the road, this is your solution. 1-800-Drivers is a source of information for those who want employment as truck owners/operators, company drivers, or team drivers, or those interested in lease purchase opportunities or training. This site allows you to apply for a variety of trucking jobs, and gives you links for member trucking companies.

3DSite

<http://www.lightside.com/~dani/>

This site is dedicated to the computer graphics field. It includes "the first truly interactive job board," job offers, organizations, newsgroups, and more. One happy 3DSite fan stated that in the two weeks since he posted his resume, he had six job offers!

ACM SIGMOD's Database Job Listings

<http://bunny.cs.uiuc.edu/sigmod/jobs/>

This site lists open positions in various fields-from teaching to programming-listed in the order in which the job openings were submitted to the database.

About Work

<http://www.aboutwork.com>

This is a fantastic resource. You'll get the ins and outs of networking, take a self-assessment test, find expert advice, read people's gripes about their job, find out about jobs that "don't suck," a list of the top 10 sites online, interviewing tips, and more.

Academic Employment Network

<http://www.academploy.com>

AEN is a site for those who are interested in a teaching job or other academic positions. You can search jobs by state. They also provide a relocation services page with rental rates, demographic comparisons, and other relevant information to your job search.

Academic Position Network

www.umn.edu/apn/

APN has job postings for positions available at institutions of higher education, including faculty, professional staff, administrative positions, graduate fellowships and assistantships, and post-doctoral positions. You can search job openings by country or state, academic or administrative field of interest, faculty position type, administrative position type, institution type, or job date range.

Academic Positions In Science

<http://online.anu.edu.au/psychology/Academia/science.htm>

This site is the worldwide register of academic positions vacant in teaching and research establishments around the world, conveniently listed by subject and location.

The Ada Project

<http://www.cs.yale.edu/HTML/YALE/CS/HyPlans/tap/tap.html>

The Ada Project Web site is designed to serve as a clearinghouse for information and resources relating to women in computing. This site provides links to many other job sites, and gives you general information about events, statistics about women in science, fellowships and grants, and other job information specific to women.

Affirmative Action Register

<http://aar-eeo.com/>

This site, in conjunction with their printed publication, the Affirmative Action Register, notifies you of professional, managerial, and administrative positions for which qualified candidates are being sought. Open positions are listed by employer and by state.

Agora Language Marketplace

<http://www.agoralang.com:2410/index.html>

Agora is a site specifically for language professionals. It makes available innovative course materials, directories of language publishers and distributors, information on studying abroad, and a bulletin board of employment listings. Employment categories are in the areas of Administrative, Arabic, Asian Languages, ESL/EFL, French, German, Hindi-Urdu, Italian, Language Lab and Technical, Latin, Multi-lingual, Portuguese, Russian, Second Language Acquisitions, Slavic, and Spanish.

The Airline Employment Assistance Corps.

<http://www2.csn.net/AEAC/>

For $10 per month, you'll get access to current job openings in the airline industry, current events, links to aviation and aerospace pages, and you'll be able to post your resume.

Airline Information Service Guide

<http://www.iwe.com/usinfo/air.htm>

This Web site explains how to receive a current guide listing contact and personnel information for airline jobs. The $9.95 guide also lists current openings for ticket agents, sales, baggage claim, ground personnel, pilots, mechanics, flight attendants, marketing, and customer service.

American Astronomical Society

<http://www.aas.org/>

This site is for the AAS, the major professional organization in North America for astronomers, other scientists, and individuals interested in astronomy. This site lists job openings (mostly in academia), information on receiving grants, publication subscription details, meeting schedules, and the Astrophysical Journal online.

American Society For Engineering Education (ASEE)

<http://www.asee.org/nein/pd/>

ASEE's CareerScope site has information on ASEE Fellowships, ASEE PRISM Professional Opportunity Listings, and Career Development Links. Open positions are primarily in aerospace, chemical, civil, industrial, mechanical, and electrical engineering; engineering management; and general engineering.

America's Employers

<http://www.americasemployers.com/>

AE includes open jobs, a chat room, a resume bank, networking information, company databases, information on recruiters, job search FAQs, "entrepreneurial options," and more. Featured employers include Merrill Lynch, Enterprise Rent-A-Car, Norwest Corporation, and more.

America's Job Bank

<http://www.ajb.dni.us/index.html>

This is a great resource for any job hunter. America's Job Bank includes approximately 100,000 job listings for government and private sector positions throughout the country. The listings are searchable by many different criteria. You'll also get links to other job banks, including military and state job banks and a virtual job fair.

Arizona Careers Online

<http://www.diversecity.com/aztuc/jobs.html>

This site provides a list of Arizona job hotlines, links to state schools, state associations and jobs, and links to other states.

Arkansas Employment Register

<http://www.arjobs.com>

This site lets you keyword search Arkansas-area jobs in the categories of technical, medical, professional, office support, and general. You'll also get access to the reading room, which has articles about career development, interviewing, resumes, and more.

Asia-Net

<http://asia-net.com/>

Interested in a job in Japan, or a job that requires you to know Japanese, Chinese, or Korean? Asia-Net publishes Asia-related jobs via email and a Web page. At this site, you can search job listings and provide your resume for circulation to companies that subscribe. Most positions are technical in nature.

Atlanta's ComputerJobs Store

<http://www.ComputerJobs.com/>

This is Atlanta's "premier Web marketplace where computer professionals can advance their careers and companies can fulfill their staffing and consulting needs." You'll find out about high-tech career fairs, computer job openings (contracting, consulting, and permanent), company profiles and contact information, a list of Atlanta's top 100 computer firms, and information on Atlanta employment trends. You can also enter your skills online for recruiters to peruse.

Best Jobs In The USA Today

<http://www.bestjobsusa.com/>

Here you'll be able to search all national, regional, and local employment ads from the USA Today newspaper. You can search ads from Employment Review magazine, and thousands of individual companies around the nation. You'll also be able to read about employment trends, visit the Career Store, and post your resume.

Bio Online

http://www.bio.com/hr/hr_index.html

This site is specifically for biotechnology-related information and services on the Internet. Services include News and Events, regularly updated, searchable job postings, Corporate Biotech (an alphabetical index of companies with background, contact information and phone numbers), Marketplace, Career Center, and more. The Career Center is run by Search Masters International, an executive search firm for the pharmaceutical and biotechnology industry.

Boston Job Bank

<http://www.bostonjobs.com/>

This site lists Boston-area job openings in computers, business, professional, sales, and general.

Broadcast Employment Services

http://www.tvjobs.com/index_a.htm

This site provides a way for employers to quickly locate experienced broadcast talent. You can search the online job bank, post your resume and find out about internships, and more. You'll get links to TV stations, contact information for broadcasting professionals, FAQs and jobline phone numbers. Job listings are in the areas of television, radio, cable, education, post production, corporate/industrial video, and multimedia.

Business Job Finder

<http://www.cob.ohio-state.edu/dept/fin/osujobs.htm>

The Business Job Finder helps you explore business careers such as finance, accounting, and management. It also has reference information, including job listings, employer home pages and profiles, career sites, job search advice, and more.

The California Career & Employment Center

<http://www.webcom.com/career>

Affiliated with HelpWanted USA, this service offers a job-seeker resource center, lists corporate members, and allows you to post your resume online. It also contains the California Job Bulletin Board and Usenet Employment Newsgroups.

The Canadian Job Source

<http://www.irus.rru.uwo.ca/~jlaw/canjob.html>

The Job Source is in both English and French, and is an index listing of Internet sources of Canadian job information, including Web pages, mailing lists, and newsgroups.

Career.com

<http://www.career.com/>

Using HEART (Human Resources Electronic Advertising and Recruiting Tool), Career.com claims to "connect employers and candidates throughout the world...or around the corner." It includes job classified ads, information on cyberfairs (online job fairs), and information on the featured employers.

Career And Labour Market Information

<http://www.est.gov.bc.ca/randa/lmi/lmisites.htm>

This site is a great source of hyperlinks to opportunities in, and information about, British Columbia. For instance, it includes links to the B.C. WorkInfoNet, College of Pharmacists of British Columbia, SkillNet, On-Line Career Centre, and more.

CareerBuilder

<http://www.careerbuilder.com>

This is a personalized service that provides confidential, and free, access to employment services on the Web. CareerBuilder also gives you career advice and notifies you when jobs are available that match your qualifications.

CareerCity

<http://www.careercity.com>

Here you'll be able to search tons of job opportunities in the areas of computer; finance, accounting, and consulting; general; management; medical/healthcare; office/administrative; sales and marketing; teaching and education; and technical. You'll also get access to Adams' Career Services Center, which provides plenty of job-related information, including advice on networking, negotiating, interviewing, and phone techniques. You can also post your resume and cover letter in the Talent Bank.

CareerConnect

<http://careers.theglobeandmail.com>

This site has resources for Canadian job hunters (or job hunters who want to be Canadian). It includes an interactive career seeker's forum, career ads online, information on upcoming career fairs and associations, an online writing and interviewing assistant, and links to related books and other publications.

Career Connection

<http://www.ebi.ac.uk/htbin/biojobs.pl>

Career Connection posts jobs related to bioinformatics, biochemistry, and molecular biology. You can search for jobs in government, academia, industry, jobs for post-doctorals, and so on.

Career Magazine

<http://www.careermag.com/>

Career Magazine offers a variety of job seeker goodies, including searchable job openings, a Resume Bank, employer profiles, a career forum, job fair information, relocation resources, on-campus recruiting information, and a variety of helpful articles.

CareerMosaic

<http://www.careermosaic.com/cm/>

This opportunities database lets you look for top jobs in a variety of careers from employers throughout North America. In addition to listing openings from major companies, the database also includes the Usenet "jobs.offered" index, with more than 23,000 postings sorted and indexed daily from "jobs.offered" newsgroups around the world. You'll also have access to a variety of Virtual Job Fairs, and special areas for college students, and those interested in working in other countries or in the health care industry.

CareerPath.com

<http://www.careerpath.com/>

After you complete the free registration, CareerPath allows you to search newspaper employment ads from six major cities. You basically get the Sunday classifieds for the Boston Globe, Chicago Tribune, Los Angeles Times, New York Times, San Jose Mercury News, and Washington Post. At any given time, CareerPath.com can connect you to about 150,000 job listings.

Career Resource Home Page

<http://www.rpi.edu/dept/cdc/homepage.html>

This site provides links to several valuable job-related pages, including databases of professional organizations, university jobs, newsgroups, career placement centers, sites for listing resumes, and more.

Career Resources Center

<http://www.careers.org>

Here you'll find around 1,800 links to great career information and resources on the Web, including newspaper job classifieds, technology company home pages, college career offices, jobs offered, newsgroups, and more.

Career Shop

<http://www.careershop.com>

This site has an online databank of resume profiles and job opportunities, and allows you to search job openings for more than 1,200 employers. You'll also get information on interviewing, corporate profiles, links to the top 10 hiring cities, and you can post your resume.

CareerSite

<http://www.careersite.com/>

This site prides itself on matching candidates and employers. Job hunters submit a profile and wait for a "virtual agent" to notify them of opportunities that match their profile.

Careers On-Line At University Of Minnesota

<http://www.disserv.stu.umn.edu/TC/Grants/COL/>

This site provides job search and employment information to people with disabilities. It includes job and internship postings, an adaptive technology products and resources database, the Job Accommodation Handbook, mentoring services, resume information, and more.

careerWEB

<http://www.cweb.com>

The careerWeb online service offers candidate information to employers, franchisers, and career-related companies. It provides job listings, a resource center, an online bookstore, employer information, and several career assessment tests.

The Catapult On JobWeb

<http://www.jobweb.org/catapult/catapult.htm>

The Catapult is a collaborative project that includes places to visit (employment centers, professional associations, etc.), resources for career practitioners, help guides and career library resources, professional development opportunities, and cyberspace search tools.

Cell

<http://www.cell.com/index.html>

Cell is the leading international journal of biological sciences. Its job site lists searchable open jobs for faculty, doctors, and more.

Chicago Tribune Career Finder

<http://www.chicago.tribune.com/career/>

This site lists job opportunities from the last two weeks' Tribune, job fairs, company profiles, and employment-related feature articles. You'll also get access to the Silicon Prairie, a new site for high-tech jobs.

College Grad Job Hunter

<http://www.collegegrad.com>

This site is "your link to life after college." It has information on interviews and negotiations, resumes and cover letters, preparation for the job search, job postings, an ezine, and more.

crm21.com

<http://crm21.com/>

crm21.com provides "Professional Career and Resume Services for Job Seekers, Employers, Recruiters, and Related Personnel." In addition to allowing you to post your resume, you'll be given links to various career centers, recruiting firms, clubs and organizations, publications, job-searching articles, and other resources. A lot of worthy information here is free!

Data Processing Independent Consultant's Exchange (DICE)

<http://www.dice.dlinc.com:8181/>

DICE is a national, electronic job advertising service used by recruiting firms seeking high-tech data processing professionals. This site allows you to search a list of companies on the Web, indexed alphabetically, by geographical location and by logo. You'll also be able to search current job openings.

The Definitive Internet Career Guide

<http://phoenix.placement.oakland.edu/career/internet.htm>

This is Oakland University's list of links to hundreds of job resources, including employment opportunities, employment publications, and career centers. Check it out.

Eastern & Central European Job Bank

<http://www.scala.hu/job-bank/>

This site claims to be "the first job bank for central and eastern Europe." It offers job listings that are searchable by location, job category, and/or keyword. Most of these positions are technical.

e-Math

<http://www.ams.org/>

This Web page is home to the American Mathematical Society. Here you'll be able to access AMS publications, apply for academic jobs, be informed about open positions, get great contact information, find out about internships, and network with others in the field.

Employment Edge

<http://www.employmentedge.com/employment.edge/>

Employment Edge specializes in professional career placement throughout the United States. You'll be able to search open positions by category (Accounting, Auditing, Engineering, Management, Programming/MIS/software engineering, and "everything else").

Employment Links For The Biomedical Scientist

<http://www.his.com/~graeme/employ.html>

This site provides a plethora of links to scientific job openings. If you're feeling scientific, this is the place to be, with links to sites such as "The Scientist," Bionet Jobs Wanted, and Statistics Employers. They also have links to other job sites, such as the Online Career Center.

Employment Online

<http://www.nanco.net/classade/employment/careers.html>

This site includes classified ads for a variety of newspapers, including The News & Observer in Research Triangle Park, North Carolina; The News Tribune in Tacoma, Washington; The Sacramento Bee in Sacramento, California; The Modesto Bee in Modesto, California; The Anchorage Daily News in Anchorage, Alaska; and the Tri-City Herald in Washington State.

Employment Opportunities Australia

<http://www.employment.com.au/>

EOA has teamed up with CareerMosaic to offer job listings in Accounting, Banking, Finance, Business Services, Administration, College and Schools, Communications, Employment Services and Training, Engineering and Mining, Government Appointments, Graduates, Hospital and Medical, Hospitality and Catering, IT/Computers, Law, Logistics, Manufacturing, Media and Advertising, Sales and Marketing, Science and Technology, Trade Appointments, and University and Higher Education.

Enter Magazine

<http://www.entermag.com>

This online publication is targeted for those interested in "life after college." It features tons of great information, including forecasts on the hottest jobs of the year, how to get a raise, an interactive loan calculator, career FAQs, book reviews, and other great tips you can use.

The Environmental Careers Organization

<http://www.eco.org/>

ECO is a national, nonprofit organization dedicated to the development of environmental careers. At this site, you'll find ECO's career publications, a placement program, and job listings for anyone interested in environmental jobs-from Anthropology to Toxicology.

E-Span's Interactive Employment Network

<http://www.espan.com/>

E-Span provides various resources for the job seeker, including current openings, salary guides, resume writing tips, and the Occupational Outlook Handbook. This service is employer paid and is free to job hunters. You also have access to E-Span's "Career Companion." All postings are searchable by keyword, region, industry, date posted, and job title. You can even post your resume to the EIN database.

EuroJobs

<http://www.eurojobs.com>

If you're interested in working in the UK, Germany, Belgium, Poland, The Netherlands, France, or Switzerland, browse this site or post your resume. Typical positions advertised on this site are in sales, product group management, finance, general management, and logistics. You'll also be able to confidentially post your resume.

Federal Jobs Digest

<http://www.jobsfed.com/fedjob4.html>

Federal Jobs Digest has more than 2,500 job openings in the areas of Engineering, Science and Math, Computer, Medical, Social Science and Legal, Law Enforcement, Accounting, Auditing, Administrative and Management, Secretarial, Clerical, Trade, and Postal.

Federal Times

<http://www.federaltimes.com/list.html>

If you're a current or former federal employee with "competitive status," you can apply for jobs offered here overseas, in the U.S., in Washington, DC specifically, and more. Also offered here are links to Army Times magazine, a bulletin board, Space News, Defense News, and Military City Online.

Forty Plus

<http://www.fp.org>

Forty Plus is a not-for-profit organization for highly skilled and experienced executives, managers, and professionals who are in career transition. Membership entitles you to a step-by-step program for a "successful job search." There are several membership requirements.

FSG Online Jobs

<http://www.chemistry.com/biotech-jobs/>

This site focuses on jobs and employment resources for biotechnology, medicine, and science. You'll get salary survey results, find out about recruiters, post your resume, search job listings, find headhunters, and discover telephone joblines.

GeoWeb Interactive

<http://www.ggrweb.com/>

GeoWeb contains online resources for Geographic Information Systems (GIS), Global Positioning Systems (GPS), and Remote Sensing (RS) industries. At GeoWeb, you can search relevant companies and home pages, advertise your home page, search job listings, post your resume, and discuss current issues.

helpwanted.com

<http://helpwanted.com/>

helpwanted.com lists jobs in the YSS (Your Software Solutions) database, company listings, agency lists, and more.

Hoover's Online

<http://www.hoovers.com/>

Hoover's is an incredible resource for researching companies. The site features links to Web sites for more than 4,000 companies, and features a list of Hoover's Top 2,500 Employers.

InPursuit's Employment Network

<http://www.inpursuit.com/e-network/>

This site provides links to a variety of job pages on the Web, including The Career Board, Shawn's Internet Resume Center, and Get A Job!

IntelliMatch

<http://www.intellimatch.com/>

The IntelliMatch Online Job Center lists job openings, gives you information about the employers using IntelliMatch, and lists professional associations, job help organizations, and upcoming job/career fairs.

The Internet Job Locator

<http://www.joblocator.com/jobs/>

This site lists mostly technical jobs and allows you to post your resume to their database. You can search listings by keyword, job description, category, company, city, state, ZIP code, and so on. Typical listings are for jobs such as Database Support Specialists, Programmer, Online Project Manager, Analyst, and Audit Manager.

JobBank USA

<http://www.interbiznet.com>

This site features a job openings database, a resume bank, employer profiles, products and services to help you manage your career, a career forum, and a variety of links. JobBank features companies such as Procter and Gamble, and has direct links to tons of resources.

JobCenter

<http://www.jobcenter.com>

The JobCenter site allows you to easily post your resume, with the provided resume form, to various newsgroups and to the JobCenter database. Their intelligent agent software will email you jobs that you're qualified for. You can also get corporate profiles, and link directly to job-related articles by well-known authors and recruiting professionals.

JobDirect

<http://www.jobdirect.com>

JobDirect is the "online entry-level employment solution." Students, using the Resume Workshop, can create a resume and search for a summer job, internship, or full-time permanent position. In addition, you can search for jobs that match your resume, browse the job/internship database, and even find out when recruiters will be visiting your campus.

JobHunt

<http://www.job-hunt.org>

This "Meta-List" of online job search resources and services includes sites with online job listings, positions in science and engineering, classified advertisements, recruiting agencies, company job resources, resume banks, reference materials, and more.

Job Navigator

<http://www.jobs.co.za/>

Job Navigator offers a comprehensive medium for meeting all needs in high-tech recruiting, professional contracting, training, and human resource development. The site lists computer-related job openings worldwide, and includes a directory of recruitment agencies, a career resource center, and more.

Job Quest

<http://www.jobquest.com/>

Job Quest offers quite a bit of invaluable free information, such as links to the Occupational Outlook Handbook, which gives you critical details (including salary, training, etc.), for almost every occupation you can think of. For a fee, you can get a report specific to your job-hunting needs.

Job Safari

<http://www.jobsafari.com>

JobSafari calls itself the "largest and most useful index of companies with employment information on the Internet." It lists companies alphabetically and by location, and you'll get updated links directly to the employment pages of leading companies.

Job Search

<http://www.adnetsol.com/jsearch/jshome1.html>

Job Search aids professionals, managers, and executives in their efforts to find new employment. It maintains exclusive databases of 40,000 companies, over 100,000 current news stories, 1,000+ resume summaries and 500+ active Job Postings throughout Southern California.

Job Source: Careers For College Graduates

<http://www.jobsource.com>

Job Source is a great site for college folks, with access to job banks, company profiles, a resume generator, internships, job tips, graduate school info, a message board, and more.

JOBTRAK

<http://www.jobtrak.com/>

In partnership with 500+ college and university career centers across the nation, JOBTRAK provides to students and recent graduates over 2,100 new full- and part-time job openings each day. Job hunters can search the JOBTRAK database, view company profiles, and read job search tips.

JobWeb

<http://www.jobweb.com/>

JobWeb includes job-search articles and tips, job listings, and company information for college students, recent graduates, and alumni. It also provides resources such as career and employment information, training, and services sponsored by the National Association of Colleges and Employers.

JobSmart: Northern California Job Search Guide

<http://jobsmart.org>

JobSmart provides great information, including articles about the "hidden job markets," networking resources, job fairs, career events, library resources, a Bay area calendar, and company research. It also features resume tips, including information about electronic resume banks, resume resources, and cover letters.

JOM

<http://www.tms.org/pubs/journals/JOM/classifieds.html>

JOM is a technical journal dedicated to exploring the many aspects of materials science and engineering. The JOM Web site lists metallurgical job openings and contact information.

Kansas Careers Mentor Project

<http://www-personal.ksu.edu/~dangle/>

Located at Kansas State University, this home page features a mentor program specifically for women, especially for non-traditional careers. It also includes a women's guide to the Internet, information on professional groups, and articles of interest to women and people of color.

Landscape Architecture And Architecture Jobs

<http://www.clr.toronto.edu/VIRTUALLIB/jobs.html>

Here you'll get a free guide to finding a job in architecture, landscape architecture, and planning. You'll also get complete listings (both technical and non-technical) for jobs in private firms, government, and academia- for example, Planning Technician, Network Specialist, Intern Architect, Research Assistant, and Professor.

Law Employment Center

<http://www.lawjobs.com/>

This site gives you searchable employment listings, a legal salary survey, a list of the nation's largest 250 law firms, the Law Employment Library, and Q&A about the law employment marketplace. You'll also get links to directories, research resources, and classified job ads.

Los Angeles Times Classifieds Employment

<http://www.latimes.com/HOME/CLASS/EMPLOY/>

This L.A. Times site is a fantastic resource, with an online career counselor, career news, a career fair, job search, job tips and tools, jobs at the Times, company information, and the employment listings of the paper.

Medical/Health Care Jobs Page

<http://www.nationjob.com/medical>

These jobs can be searched by location, position type, salary, and keyword. You can also use the scouting function to have jobs that match your criteria emailed to you each week.

MedSearch America

<http://www.medsearch.com/>

MedSearch America provides job-hunting resources for those interested in working in healthcare. The site advertises job openings, posts your resume, profiles companies, and more.

The Monster Board

<http://www2.monster.com/>

The Monster Board is one of my favorite resources, and includes employer profiles for more than 4,000 companies, and more than 5,000 job listings. You'll also be able to create your own electronic resume (if you haven't already) with the customized application, and submit it. You can also email your electronic resume, check out career events, and talk to HR people.

National Diversity Journalism Job Bank

<http://www.newsjobs.com/>

This site claims to be the nation's most comprehensive list of journalism openings on the Internet, focusing on increased participation by minorities and women. It brings job seekers and newspapers together, and includes job listings, links to other journalism links, information about sending resumes, and more. Also featured is a resume form page for sending in your resume for jobs you're interested in.

National JobNet

<http://www.orlando.com/jobnet/>

JobNet is a classified job listing service where job seekers can search for jobs by keyword. When you find the job you want, you simply click on the job title and fill out the online resume and questionnaire.

National Physician Job Listings Directory

<http://www.embbs.com/job/jobs.html>

This site lists practice opportunities throughout North America for all medical specialties. You can search all job listings here for no fee. Wow, there's even a "Toxicology Corner"!

NationJob Network

<http://www.nationjob.com/>

NationJob is an online jobs database that contains thousands of jobs open around the United States (primarily in the Midwest, though). Using custom criteria that you specify, NationJob's Personal Job Scout (used by more than 90,000 job hunters) will email jobs that you're a fit for.

Net-Temps

<http://www.net-temps.com/>

Net-Temps features thousands of contract and permanent jobs, and you can post your resume in their resume bank. Most of the opportunities are technical, and can be searched by state or keyword.

New Jersey Jobs

<http://www.njjobs.com/>

This site lists weekly job openings for New Jersey businesses. Typical positions are Silicon Graphics Administrator, Client Server Developer, Programmer, Customer Service Representative, and Help Desk Support.

The News & Observer Employment Online

<http://www.nando.net/classads/employment>

This site lists job openings from North Carolina's News & Observer classified advertisements. You'll be able to search jobs by category for the daily classifieds and from the Sunday paper. Listings are in the areas of Financial, Administrative, Data Processing, Educators, Professional, Sales, Healthcare, Manufacturing, Technical, Trades, Restaurants and Hotels, Retail, Domestic, Marketing, part-time, and full-time.

New Zealand InfoTech Weekly

<http://www.infotech.co.nz/current>

From here, you can get to New Zealand's JobNet. With JobNet you can search hundreds of job openings by job type, location, agency, date, and description.

Omaha CareerLink

<http://www.omaha.org/careerlink.html>

This site lists tons of professional staff opportunities in Nebraska. It also gives you detailed information about the Omaha area and area businesses, and even lists internships.

Online Career Center

<http://www.occ.com/>

The Online Career Center is one of the largest online job search resources, with a database of jobs searchable by type, location, and so on. The site also features a resume posting area, where you can submit an HTML or plain text resume; career assistance, career fairs and events, a college recruiting forum, and more.

PassportAccess Employment Network

<http://www.passportaccess.com>

PassportAccess matches up employers, human resources departments, recruiters, and job candidates. You can post your resume using the included form, and scan job postings.

Peace Corps

<http://www.peacecorps.gov>

"The Toughest Job You'll Ever Love!" The Peace Corps is looking for qualified candidates for exciting volunteer assignments all over the world. At this site, you'll find out everything you want to know about volunteering, countries where volunteers serve, the Corps' global education program, getting involved with a Corps project near you, and more.

Ray Osborne's Home Page

<http://jobs.index.com/>

This is more than just "some guy's" Web site. Ray offers a networking area called The Grapevine and lists job openings that are both technical and non-technical. You'll also get lists of job hotlines, talent banks, and other employment Web pages.

Reed Jobnet Homepage

<http://www.reed.co.uk>

This site has links to UK opportunities in Computing and IT, Office and Secretarial, Accounting and Financial, Insurance, Nursing and Healthcare, Catering, Banking, Engineering and Technical, and others.

Salsop Australia

<http://www.salsop.com.au/jobs.html>

Salsop contains links to information about resumes, employment, jobs, employers, employees, and working in and around Australia. It also has "10 steps to creating a damn good resume."

Saludos Web

<http://www.hooked.net/saludos/>

Saludos Web is a Web site devoted exclusively to promoting Hispanic careers and education, supported by Saludos Hispanos Magazine. This site has a resume pool, where you can post your resume for a fee; an education center with information on internships, mentorship, and scholarships; articles from Saludos Hispanos Magazine; and a career center with information on current job listings, career fields, trends, and guidance.

San Jose Mercury News Classified Ads

<http://spyglass.sjmercury.com/class/help/index.htm>

Here you can search the newspaper's daily and Sunday classified ads. You can search by keyword or look in the categories such as Accounting, Banking, Clerical, Dental, Education, Health, Janitor, Machinist, Nursing, Painter, Real Estate, Sales, Teacher, Veterinary, and many more.

SkillSearch

<http://www.internet-is.com/skillsearch/>

SkillSearch is a professional membership organization specializing in career networking. More than 700 employers use SkillSearch to look for candidates, and SkillSearch boasts that salaries for positions they have found matches for range from $30,000 to $250,000. Cost for the job hunter includes a one-time fee of $65, and then an additional $15 upon "each anniversary of their enrollment."

Space Jobs

<http://www.spacejobs.com>

Space Jobs is an employment advertising service tailored to meet the needs of individuals and organizations active in the space industry. You can search the space jobs listings by keyword, or you can subscribe to have opportunities emailed to you.

StudentCenter.com

<http://www.studentcenter.com>

StudentCenter helps college and graduate students, and recent graduates identify their personal strengths, define their career goals, and learn about those companies that best match their interests. They have the CareerDoctor, which helps you determine the right career for you, INROADS, which helps talented minority youth prepare for corporate leadership, and resume and cover letter help. Also featured is "insider information" about informational interviews and networking advice.

Summer Jobs

<http://www.summerjobs.com>

Summer Jobs is a database of seasonal and part-time job opportunities. While the primary focus is summer employment for students and education professionals, other jobs may be posted as well. Examples of posted positions are Cruise Line Employee, Tennis Instructor, Sales, Referral Representative, and Field Technician.

Sun-Sentinel Edition

http://www.chicago.tribune.com/career/sentinel_ads.html

This site lists weekly employment classified advertisements, mostly for technical jobs.

Technology Registry

<http://www.techreg.com>

You can list your resume in this online employment database for about $25. Subscribers to this service range from Fortune 500 companies and international executive search firms to small startups.

TOPjobs-USA

<http://www.topjobsusa.com/>

TOPjobs provides quite a bit of information for those searching for a job or changing careers. The site focuses on information about Professional, Managerial, or Technical Specialist job opportunities. It has searchable job postings, employer and consultant databases, and career counseling and advice.

Truckers.com

<http://www.truckers.com>

This site has everything a truck driver, or truck driver wannabe, would ever need. Featured here are news and articles, links to state trucking associations, maps and routing, diesel price watch, and a featured truck of the month. Their jobs page gives you links to employment with about 50 companies and other trucker-friendly employment areas on the Web.

Virtual Job Fair

<http://www.vjf.com/>

Virtual Job Fair features more than 500 employers with more than 15,000 keyword searchable high-tech career opportunities. They also post resumes and provide you with career resources.

Women's Wire

<http://www.women.com/work/>

Women's Wire has tons of resources, including a section on hot careers, entrepreneurs, a career forum, a list of the top 100 companies, reviews of career Web sites, and tons of career profiles. Also featured are career-related articles.

Yahoo!- Business And Economy

<http://www.yahoo.com/Business>

Yahoo!'s page gives you links to a variety of resources, from current business headlines to information on companies, electronic commerce, small businesses, trade, and yes, employment.

Professional Recruiters On The Web

This is a sample of some of the recruiters you can find on the Web, many of which list job openings at their sites. You can find more by conducting a search. Read carefully before making any decisions about using an online recruiter. Some will charge you rather than charge the employer.

Chancellor And Chancellor

<http://www.chancellor.com>

This is a brokerage firm for computer technology professionals. Offers company profiles and principal information, resources for contractors, and current job listings. If you're a contractor in the technology industry, this site has a lot to offer.

MindSource

<http://www.mindsrc.com>

MindSource is a Unix contracting and recruiting company owned and operated by Unix software engineers. They provide technical talent in the areas of Unix systems administration, quality assurance, and Web engineering for permanent and contract staffing needs.

Recruiters OnLine Network

<http://www.ipa.com/>

RON is the largest online association of recruiters, employment agencies, search firms and employment professionals. The company offers a Resource Center, allowing you to search the database for Recruiters OnLine employers, visit the Career Center (where you can post your resume), and view employment listings.

Reed Personnel Recruiting

<http://www.reed.co.uk>

Reed Personnel Services is the largest independent British employment agency, with more than 200 branches. Reed specializes in providing temporary and permanent secretarial, word processing, clerical, and general office staff.

J. Robert Scott Executive Search

<http://j-robert-scott.com/>

J. Robert Scott recruits senior-level management for high growth entrepreneurial companies in the areas of financial services, telecommunications, software, retail, biotechnology, and healthcare. You can search the company's opportunities list. All fees are company paid.

Enterprise Client/Server

<http://www.enterprise.skill.com/>

Enterprise specializes in Client/Server positions, both short and long-term, contract and permanent.

National Technical Employment Services (NTES)

<http://iquest.com/~ntes/>

While you can post your resume at no charge, NTES offers resume services and HOTFLASH Magazine (a jobs information publication) for a price.

PC Personnel

<http://www.pcpersonnel.com/>

PC Personnel is a computer placement service specializing in networking positions in the Northern California area. Take a look at their job openings for Network Technical Support, System Administration, and Network Engineering/Telecom/Management positions.

Virtual Search's Online Center

<http://www.vsearch.com/>

Virtual is a company specializing in recruiting highly qualified technical, creative, and marketing professionals for companies involved in advanced technologies and next-generation applications and products.

Resume Services

There are many resume services on the Web, and they vary wildly in price.

I recommend that you create your own resume, using the tips provided in this book. If you use a resume service, your resume is likely to look similar to a host of other job hunters. However, if you really feel that your resume can and should be improved, you'll want to consider the services in this section.

AAA Resume/Distinctive Documents

<http://www.infi.net/~resume/>

AAA Resume offers several services, including resume analysis and critique ($15). The company also writes your resume and uploads it to a large database for anywhere from $50 to $80.

Career Marketing Resume Services

<http://www2.careermarketing.ocm/careermarketing>

This company offers professional resume preparation for a fee somewhere between $59 and $189. Their site also includes FAQs about resume preparation, and links to related sites and articles.

The Resume Publishing Company

<http://www.sni.net/cha/trpc.htm>

This service allows you to post your HTML resume to a URL the company gives you. You must provide the resume. Fees start at $30, depending on the type of resume, number of graphics, and other variables.

Universities And Government Positions

This section provides university and government position URLs. You can find even more by using the Career Resources Home Page listed previously.

The following URLs were found at the FedWorld Information Network:

Alaska <ftp://ftp.fedworld.gov/pub/jobs/ak.txt>

Alabama <ftp://ftp.fedworld.gov/pub/jobs/al.txt>

Arkansas <ftp://ftp.fedworld.gov/pub/jobs/ar.txt>

Arizona <ftp://ftp.fedworld.gov/pub/jobs/az.txt>

California <ftp://ftp.fedworld.gov/pub/jobs/ca.txt>

Colorado <ftp://ftp.fedworld.gov/pub/jobs/co.txt>

Connecticut <ftp://ftp.fedworld.gov/pub/jobs/ct.txt>

Delaware <ftp://ftp.fedworld.gov/pub/jobs/de.txt>

Florida <ftp://ftp.fedworld.gov/pub/jobs/fl.txt>

Georgia <ftp://ftp.fedworld.gov/pub/jobs/ga.txt>

Hawaii <ftp://ftp.fedworld.gov/pub/jobs/hi.txt>

Iowa <ftp://ftp.fedworld.gov/pub/jobs/ia.txt>

Idaho <ftp://ftp.fedworld.gov/pub/jobs/id.txt>

Illinois <ftp://ftp.fedworld.gov/pub/jobs/il.txt>

Indiana <ftp://ftp.fedworld.gov/pub/jobs/in.txt>

Kansas <ftp://ftp.fedworld.gov/pub/jobs/ks.txt>

Kentucky <ftp://ftp.fedworld.gov/pub/jobs/ky.txt>

Louisiana <ftp://ftp.fedworld.gov/pub/jobs/la.txt>

Massachusetts <ftp://ftp.fedworld.gov/pub/jobs/ma.txt>

Maryland <ftp://ftp.fedworld.gov/pub/jobs/md.txt>

Maine <ftp://ftp.fedworld.gov/pub/jobs/me.txt>

Michigan <ftp://ftp.fedworld.gov/pub/jobs/mi.txt>

Minnesota <ftp://ftp.fedworld.gov/pub/jobs/mn.txt>

Missouri <ftp://ftp.fedworld.gov/pub/jobs/mo.txt>

Mississippi <ftp://ftp.fedworld.gov/pub/jobs/ms.txt>

Montana <ftp://ftp.fedworld.gov/pub/jobs/mt.txt>

North Carolina <ftp://ftp.fedworld.gov/pub/jobs/nc.txt>

North Dakota <ftp://ftp.fedworld.gov/pub/jobs/nd.txt>

Nebraska <ftp://ftp.fedworld.gov/pub/jobs/ne.txt>

New Hampshire <ftp://ftp.fedworld.gov/pub/jobs/nh.txt>

New Jersey <ftp://ftp.fedworld.gov/pub/jobs/nj.txt>

New Mexico <ftp://ftp.fedworld.gov/pub/jobs/nm.txt>

Nevada <ftp://ftp.fedworld.gov/pub/jobs/nv.txt>

New York <ftp://ftp.fedworld.gov/pub/jobs/ny.txt>

Ohio <ftp://ftp.fedworld.gov/pub/jobs/oh.txt>

Oklahoma <ftp://ftp.fedworld.gov/pub/jobs/ok.txt>

Oregon <ftp://ftp.fedworld.gov/pub/jobs/or.txt>

Pennsylvania <ftp://ftp.fedworld.gov/pub/jobs/pa.txt>

Puerto Rico <ftp://ftp.fedworld.gov/pub/jobs/pr.txt>

Rhode Island <ftp://ftp.fedworld.gov/pub/jobs/ri.txt>

South Carolina <ftp://ftp.fedworld.gov/pub/jobs/sc.txt>

South Dakota <ftp://ftp.fedworld.gov/pub/jobs/sd.txt>

Tennessee <ftp://ftp.fedworld.gov/pub/jobs/tn.txt>

Texas <ftp://ftp.fedworld.gov/pub/jobs/tx.txt>

Utah <ftp://ftp.fedworld.gov/pub/jobs/ut.txt>

Virginia <ftp://ftp.fedworld.gov/pub/jobs/va.txt>

Vermont <ftp://ftp.fedworld.gov/pub/jobs/vt.txt>

Washington State <ftp://ftp.fedworld.gov/pub/jobs/wa.txt>

Wisconsin <ftp://ftp.fedworld.gov/pub/jobs/wi.txt>

Wyoming <ftp://ftp.fedworld.gov/pub/jobs/wy.txt>

The Academic Position Network

<gopher://rodent.cis.umn.edu:11111/>

This network provides notice of academic position announcements around the world, including faculty, staff, and administrative positions; post-doctoral positions; graduate fellowships and assistantships; and more.

Chronicle Of Higher Education

<http://chronicle.merit.edu/ads/.links.html>

Use this site to discover academic positions around the world for faculty and research positions (humanities, social sciences, science and technology, and professional fields), administrative positions, and executive positions. You can search job listings by keywords or by region.

Cornell University Career Opportunities

<http://www/cornell.edu/Admin/JOBOPS/JOBOPS.html>

This site lists jobs at Cornell weekly. Typical positions are in the areas of Academic Support, Administration, Auxiliary Services, Communications, Computers & Networks, Finance/Budget/Planning, Human Resources, Library/Museum, Public Affairs, Service/Facilities, Student Services, Technical, General Service, Temporary Positions, and Academic.

Department Of The Interior Automated Vacancy Announcement Distribution System (AVADS)

<http://info.er.usgs.gov/doi/avads/index.html>

This site gives you access to government jobs nationwide in the Bureau of Indian Affairs, Bureau of Land Management, Bureau of Mines, Bureau of Reclamation, Fish and Wildlife Services, Minerals Management Service, National Biological Service, National Park Service, Office of the Secretary, Office of Surface Mining, and U.S. Geological Survey.

Federal Information Exchange, Inc.

<http://fedix.fie.com/>

This comprehensive site lists available opportunities and activities information for the Department of Energy (DOE), Air Force Office of Scientific Research (AFOSR), Department of Agriculture (USDA), Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA), National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases (NIAID), National Institute of Environmental Health Sciences (NIEHS), and the Office of Naval Research (ONR).

Indiana State Department Of Personnel

<http://www.ai.org/jobs/jobbank.html>

This site includes the ISDP job bank and allows you to download all job listings. It lists rules for application and gives you access to the locations of Statewide Workforce Development Offices (for typing tests).

Texas Parks And Wildlife

<http://www.tpwd.state.tx.us/involved/jobvac/job.htm>

This site lists jobs with the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department in areas such as Human Resources, Wildlife, Coastal Fisheries, Inland Fisheries, Public Lands, Law Enforcement, Conservation Communications, Resource Protection, and more. It also has an online Texas state job application.